RE: MAREI meeting

Dear Mr. Randel,

Our group really enjoyed your presentation on the night of Tuesday November 14th. You not only outlined some scenarios that many of our experienced investors may have never thought about doing, but you were also able to explain them in a way that our newer investors understood what you were talking about.

All of our members who attended the meeting were all very impressed and I know were sharing this with you after the meeting. Many also called us the next day to let us know how much they enjoyed the presentation. And when I attended a similar function later in the week for another investment group, many of the same people were in attendance there and again came up to express their appreciation of your presentation.

I would gladly recommend you to other real estate investment groups across the country. If they want to find out first hand the big picture of how things work in the commercial arena of real estate investing, both your book and your presentation are an excellent introduction. If I were holding a multiple speaker event on commercial investing, I would want to have you be our opening speaker to set the stage for the rest of the day so to speak. And if you had a training segment with specific how to training, I would think you would be able to present that information in a similar, easy to understand, plain English manner.

I wish you well and look forward to meeting you again in the future.

Sincerely,

Kim Tucker
Executive Director
